

METRO

Briefly

Rauh Jewish Archives of the Heinz History Center has added photographs from the Richard E. Rauh Collection to Historic Pittsburgh, an online photo archive, maintained by the University of Pittsburgh, depicting the history of the city and the region.

These latest images depict Bertha Rauh, with her family, and as the director of charities. She was the first woman in the United States to be appointed to the cabinet of a major city mayor. In that capacity, she was responsible for the conversion of Mayview Hospital into a modern psychiatric hospital. Images of the construction at the Mayview site are included.

Bertha Rauh

Annabelle Joseph, director of the Carnegie Mellon School of Music Marta Sanchez Dalcroze Training Center, is recruiting active seniors to participate in an opportunity to demonstrate the value of Dalcroze Eurhythmics for a healthy, aging brain. Research on Dalcroze classes with seniors in Switzerland reported in the Archives of Internal Medicine Vol. 171 No. 6 March 28, 2011, showed positive results including decrease in falls and improved mental health.

Classes, led by Joseph, will be available to 15 people age 65 and over. Participants should be active and able to attend four afternoon sessions July 6, 7 and July 13, 14 from 3 to 4:30 p.m., on CMU's campus. No prior music training is required. There is a charge.

Contact Joseph at aj12@andrew.cmu.edu or (412) 268-2391 for more information.

National Conference of Synagogue Youth will hold its annual Garden Sizzler in Pittsburgh, Monday, June 27, 7:30 to 10:30 p.m., at the Butler Gardens, 5710 Bartlett St., Squirrel Hill. Contact Nina Butler at ninasbutler@gmail.com for more information.

Chabad of the South Hills will hold a summer barbecue luncheon and bird show for seniors Wednesday, July 13, noon at 1701 McFarland Road. There is a suggested donation; the location is wheelchair accessible. Contact Batya at (412) 344-2424 or batya@chabdsh.com for reservations.

Dorothy Kabakeris, senior librarian at the Squirrel Hill Branch of Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, will speak on "All the Uses of Your Library Card From Your Home Computer" at the NA'AMAT USA, Pittsburgh Council lunch and learn program Wednesday, June 29, at noon at the Labor Zionist Educational Center, 6328 Forbes Ave.

Kabakeris is in charge of the Namm Business Center library, a business resource satellite. She also runs the book discussion group at the Squirrel Hill branch of the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh.

Career Development Center of the Jewish Family & Children's Service will offer job seekers 17 workshops for free in July.

Some of the workshops include the Art of Networking, July 11; Nonprofit Management Job Search & Discussion, July 15; Franchising as a Career Option, July 20; and Understanding Unemployment Benefits, July 21. Monthly LinkedIn for Beginners, LinkedIn Advanced, AARP WorkSearch 40+ and Job Seeker Support group workshops will also be held.

Workshops are of no cost to participants, but those interested must sign up in advance.

Registrations may be completed at careerdevelopmentcenter.org. Call the Career Development Center at (412) 422-5627 for more information.

The AgeWell Adult Department of the Jewish Community Center of Greater Pittsburgh is hosting a series of discussions by local rabbis in its weekly Current Events program, Fridays at 10:30 a.m. in room 307 at the JCC, 5738 Forbes Ave., Squirrel Hill. There is no fee and the program is open to the community.

The participating rabbis are James Gibson of Temple Sinai (June 24), Jonathan Perlman of New Light Congregation (July 1), Aaron Bisno of Rodef Shalom Congregation (July 8), Ron Symons of Temple Sinai (July 15), Alex Greenbaum of Beth El Congregation of the South Hills (July 22) and Stephanie Wolfe of Beth Samuel Jewish Center in Ambridge (July 29).

Contact Nicole Mezare at (412) 521-8011 Ext. 278 or at nmezare@jccpgph.org for more information.